About

I'm a WordPress developer and technical support expert with a strong focus on quality. I aim to exceed client expectations and constantly look for new challenges to grow and deliver innovative solutions.

I enjoy diving into tricky problems, especially the ones most people overlook or give up on. Whether it's a strange bug on a website or a hosting issue, I find those challenges genuinely fun. I like figuring out what's broken and making it work better than before.

Whether maintaining existing sites or launching new ones, I bring a balance of development expertise and support insight to help clients get the most out of their WordPress platforms. My goal is to exceed expectations, grow continuously, and deliver work that makes a meaningful impact.

Work Experience

Company - Utopia Tech

Jan 2020 - Dec 2024

I spent nearly five years with the company, working as both a WordPress Developer and Technical Support Specialist. This role sharpened my technical skills while strengthening my ability to support and communicate with clients effectively.
